DEFENDANTS’ MOTION TO DISMISS PLAINTIFFS’ AMENDED COMPLAINT AND INCORPORATED MEMORANDUM OF LAW

Defendants, Chak Yam Chau (“Chef Philippe”), Stratis Morfogen, Philippe Miami, LLC, Philippe North America Restaurants, LLC and Philippe Restaurant Corp. (collectively referred to as “Philippe”), through counsel, and pursuant to Rules 12(b)(6), Federal Rules of Civil Procedure, and Local Rule 7.1, hereby file their Motion to Dismiss, and state as follows:

INTRODUCTION

Since December 2005, Plaintiffs and Philippe have operated Chinese cuisine restaurants a few blocks apart from each other in New York City. Plaintiffs watched their former Chef of over 25 years build, promote and market a business, and never once notified Philippe of any objections to its business activities prior to the filing of the instant lawsuit on July 8, 2009. Specifically, Plaintiffs never once objected to the spelling of Chef Philippe's last name "Chow" (the common pronunciation and common American spelling of Chef Philippe's birth name "Chau"). Plaintiffs never once contended that Philippe was misrepresenting Chef Philippe's experience or credentials. Plaintiffs never once claimed that Philippe was confusing customers by suggesting that there was an affiliation between Plaintiffs and Philippe. There was not a word, there was not a letter; there was complete radio silence for almost four years.

Chef Philippe spent over 25 years working at Plaintiffs' Mr. Chow restaurant, mastering each of the six components of the Chinese kitchen and ultimately rising to the position of Head Chef. Chef Philippe is one of only a handful of people in the United States that mastered each of these six functions. Plaintiffs' allegation that Chef Philippe was merely a "chopper," and not one of Mr. Chow's Head Chefs, is patently false. After over 25 years, Chef Philippe decided to use his knowledge and experience to build his own restaurant business, which was his right.

Since 2005, at great risk and expense, and predicated on the expert culinary skills of Chef Philippe, Philippe has established the brand "Philippe" as one of the premier names in high end Chinese food. Philippe progressively and successfully built its business by opening new Philippe restaurant locations in New York City, Miami Beach, East Hampton and Mexico City. In doing so, Philippe, among other things, procured multiple partners who invested significant money into the business; hired numerous employees to operate the business (wait staff, kitchen staff, management, etc.); and committed itself to lease agreements in multiple locations.

It is extraordinary that almost four years after Philippe began operating its business down the block from Plaintiffs without objection, Plaintiffs have brought this action wherein they contend for the first time that Philippe is engaged in unfair competition, has violated various laws and that Chef Philippe is a "fraud". Philippe's business activities, including the name of its restaurants and its marketing efforts, have not materially changed since it opened for business in 2005. If Plaintiffs sincerely believed that they were victims as alleged, they would not have waited nearly four years to assert their claims, but rather, would have immediately put Philippe on notice of their claims when Philippe, in 2005, opened its New York location a few blocks from Mr. Chow's restaurant. Indeed, the timing of the filing of Plaintiffs' lawsuit in Miami and the related press coverage encouraged by Plaintiffs is suspect as it coincides with the imminent grand opening of Mr. Chow's new restaurant on Miami Beach. (Compl. ¶ 31.)

SUMMARY OF ARGUMENT

Plaintiffs' claims for federal trademark infringement and unfair competition under the Lanham Act, and their related state statutory and common law claims, fail as a matter of law for all of the following reasons:

1. Plaintiffs' inexcusable delay in filing this action, combined with their utter lack of objection for almost four years while Philippe expanded its business nationwide, causes each of Plaintiffs' claims to be barred by laches.

2. Counts I through VI, for Federal Trademark Infringement, Federal Trademark Infringement Based on Reverse Confusion, False Association/False Designation of Origin and Federal Unfair Competition, False Advertising, Common Law Trademark Infringement, and Common Law Unfair Competition, respectively, and Count VIII for Violation of Florida's Deceptive and Unfair Trade Practices Act, must be dismissed as the well-pled allegations of the Amended Complaint establish that there can be no likelihood of consumer confusion based on the weakness of Plaintiffs' mark and the absence of any alleged actual confusion between Plaintiffs and Philippe.

3. Count IX for Conversion must be dismissed as a trademark cannot be "converted" as a matter of law.

4. Count VII for Misappropriation of Trade Secrets under New York law is barred by the statute of limitations, and otherwise fails to state a claim for which relief can be granted because: Plaintiffs fail to allege the existence of any protectable trade secrets; and fail to allege any specific efforts that were undertaken to maintain the confidentiality of their alleged trade secrets.

5. Counts V and VI for Common Law Trademark Infringement and Common Law Unfair Competition fail because Plaintiffs fail to allege which State's law governs such claims.

6. Plaintiffs' claims fail to comply with the Rule 8 pleading requirements.

MEMORANDUM OF LAW

I. STANDARD FOR GRANTING A MOTION TO DISMISS

To survive a Rule 12(b)(6) motion to dismiss, a complaint must contain factual allegations that are "more than labels and conclusions" and are "enough to raise a right to relief above the speculative level, on the assumption that all the allegations in the complaint are true.” Bell Atlantic Corp. v. Twombly, 550 U.S. 544, 127 S. Ct. 1955, 1965 (2007). A court may dismiss a complaint on a dispositive issue of law. See Marshall County Bd. of Educ. v. Marshall County Gas Dist., 992 F.2d 1171, 1173 (11th Cir. 1993). Moreover, “conclusory allegations, unwarranted deductions of facts or legal conclusions masquerading as facts will not prevent dismissal.” Snow v. DirecTV, Inc., 450 F.3d 1314, 1320 (11th Cir. 2006). Dismissal of a complaint with prejudice is proper where it conclusively appears that there is no possible way to amend a complaint to state a claim. See Lopez v. First Union Nat’l Bank, 129 F.3d 1186, 1189 (11th Cir. 1997).

In addition, because of Plaintiffs’ failure to attach any documents in support of its claims, this Circuit also allows courts to consider documents attached to, or incorporated by reference in, a dismissal motion without converting the motion into one for summary judgment if the documents are (1) central to plaintiffs’ claims and (2) undisputed, i.e., their authenticity is not challenged. D.L. Day v. Taylor, 400 F.3d 1272 (11th Cir. 2005) citing Fed. R. Civ. P. 12(b). In ruling on a motion to dismiss, courts may also consider “documents . . . and matters of which a court may take judicial notice.” Traffic Jam Events, LLC v. Cortes, 2009 WL 2175640 *1 (M.D. Fla. 2009) citing GSW, Inc. v. Long County, Ga., 999 F.2d 1508, 1510 (11th Cir. 1993). The documents appended to this Motion, including images of the marks in question and images of the marks as displayed in commerce are materials that go to the core of Plaintiffs’ Amended Complaint and as to which there can be no issue as to authenticity. As such, the Court can and should consider such materials as it considers this motion to dismiss for failure to state a claim.

II. PLAINTIFFS’ CLAIMS ARE BARRED BY LACHES

The equitable defense of estoppel by laches bars untimely and inequitable claims for federal trademark infringement and unfair competition brought under the Lanham Act and related state statutory and common law claims. Conagra, Inc. v. Singleton, 743 F.2d 1508, 1517 (11th Cir. 1984); Saratoga Vichy Spring Co., Inc. v. Lehman, 625 F.2d 1037, 1040-41 (2d Cir. 1980). Laches may bar both claims for injunctive and monetary relief. Cuban Cigar Brands N.V. v. Upmann Int’l, Inc., 457 F. Supp. 1090, 1096 (S.D.N.Y. 1978), aff’d, 607 F.2d 995 (2d Cir. 1979). A defendant successfully asserts laches by establishing three elements: “(1) a delay in asserting a right or claim; (2) that the delay was not excusable; and (3) that there was undue prejudice to the party against whom the claim is asserted.” Kason Indus. v. Component Hardware Group, Inc., 120 F.3d 1199, 1203 (11th Cir. 1997) (citing AmBrit, Inc. v. Kraft, Inc., 812 F.2d 1531, 1545 (11th Cir. 1986)). Where laches is apparent on the face of the complaint, it is a proper subject for a motion to dismiss. Szymanski v. Glen of South Barrington Prop. Owners Assoc., 689 N.E.2d 272, 274 (Ill. App. Ct. 1997) (citing Summers v. Village of Durand, 643 N.E.2d 272 (Ill. App. Ct. 1994)). Here, Counts I through IX for Federal Trademark Infringement, Federal Trademark Infringement Based on Reverse Confusion, False Association/False Designation of Origin and Federal Unfair Competition, False Advertising, Common Law Trademark Infringement, Common Law Unfair Competition, Misappropriation of Trade Secrets, Violation of Florida Deceptive and Unfair Trade Practices Act, and Conversion, respectively, are all barred by laches.

A. Plaintiffs Excessively Delayed in Asserting their Claims

“Equity aids the vigilant and not those who slumber on their rights.”

6 McCarthy on Trademarks and Unfair Competition § 31:1 (2009).

Courts have not hesitated to dismiss Lanham Act claims on laches grounds when the plaintiff inexplicably delayed bringing suit for even a few years. GTE Corp. v. Williams, 649 F. Supp. 164 (C.D. Utah 1986) (2 year delay); Golden West Brewing Co. v. Milonas & Sons, Inc., 104 F.2d 880 (9th Cir. 1939) (3 year delay); Columbia Univ. v. Columbia/HCA Healthcare Corp., 964 F. Supp. 733 (S.D.N.Y. 1997) (3½ year delay).

Here, Plaintiffs allege that they were aware of Philippe from the moment the restaurant opened its doors on 60th Street “just a few blocks away from the MR CHOW restaurant on 57th Street” in December 2005. (Compl. ¶ 52.) However, Plaintiffs chose not to assert their claims until over three and a half years later through the commencement of this action on July 8, 2009. Having remained silent for the three and a half years, it is inequitable and unreasonable for Plaintiffs to now ask this Court to enjoin Philippe from operating its highly successful restaurants or to otherwise seek relief from Philippe while Plaintiffs spent the last three and a half years silent. See Lake Caryonah Imp. Ass'n v. Pulte Home Corp., 903 F.2d 505, 510 (7th Cir. 1990) (“Having behaved more like Rip Van Winkle than the ‘early bird,’ [plaintiffs] now must live with the consequences.”)

B. Plaintiffs’ Delay was Inexcusable

A trademark owner cannot simply wait without explanation to see how successful the defendant's business will be and then ask for an injunction to take away the good will developed by defendant in the interim. Polaroid Corp. v. Polarad Elecs. Corp., 287 F.2d 492 (2d Cir. 1961) cert. denied, 368 U.S. 820 (1961). Delay is inexcusable where a trademark owner "could have notified defendant of the objection but consciously chose to allow him to continue spending time and money developing rapport with the public under the trademark." GTE Corp., 649 F. Supp. at 175-76.

Here, Plaintiffs' excessive delay was inexcusable. During the three and a half years that Plaintiffs were aware of Philippe's business practices, Plaintiffs never once objected to the name of the Philippe restaurant, the dishes served at Philippe, the décor of the restaurant or the marketing efforts of the restaurant. Nor did Plaintiffs bring to Philippe's attention a single instance of customer confusion between Philippe and Plaintiffs' Mr. Chow restaurant. Plaintiffs never served a cease and desist letter or demanded that Chef Philippe stop using the last name "Chow", which is phonetically identical to his birth name "Chau" and the logical spelling of his name for purposes of identifying Chef Philippe with his restaurants in the United States. Plaintiffs' delay in objecting to Philippe's business practices and filing this action is wholly inexcusable and bars all forms of relief sought herein.

C. Philippe will Suffer Undue and Severe Prejudice Absent Dismissal of Plaintiffs' Amended Complaint

A "defendant can make the required showing of prejudice by proving that it has continued to build a valuable business around its trademark during the time that the plaintiff delayed the exercise of its legal rights." Grupo Gigante SA De CV v. Dallo & Co., Inc., 391 F.3d 1088 (9th Cir. 2004). Judge Learned Hand expressed the reluctance to enjoin infringement in the face of a plaintiff's laches and acquiescence:

Even in 1930 when for the first time it really began to be injured, [plaintiff] did nothing: not a word of protest, or a gesture of complaint, escaped it for six years more; and still the milk business [of defendant] kept increasing. What equity it can have the hardihood now to assert; how can it expect us to stifle a competition which with complete complaisance, and even with active encouragement, it has allowed for years to grow like the mustard tree; why we should destroy a huge business built up with its connivance and consent; this we find it impossible to understand.

Dwinell-Wright Co. v. White House Milk Co., 132 F.2d 822 (2d Cir. 1943) (emphasis added). Similarly, in denying relief for trademark infringement in an action between competing restaurants, the court in beef & brew, inc. v Beef & Brew, Inc., 389 F. Supp. 179, 187 (D.C. Or. 1974) held that the opening of a second restaurant without objection by a knowing plaintiff satisfies the requisite prejudice for laches:

Defendant Beef & Brew, however, relied upon Plaintiff's silence for far more than promotion. Its principals committed themselves to personal liability of more than $2.5 million. Defendant opened one restaurant after Plaintiff, having learned about Defendant's plans, voiced no warning nor even sent a query from Seattle to Portland. Defendant opened a second restaurant after Plaintiff had actually seen the first yet still sent no warning or query. In these circumstances, Plaintiff's delay in asserting its claimed rights should not be permitted to deprive Defendant of the goodwill it has created

Here, Philippe has opened not one, not two, not three, but four new Philippe restaurants (with a fifth restaurant to open later this fall) without so much as a word of objection from Plaintiffs. Philippe has spent an inordinate amount of time, money, and energy investing in and growing Philippe's successful enterprise, and has committed itself to investors, employees and landlords who all have an interest in the success of Philippe's business. For Plaintiffs to now voice their objection for the first time through the filing of this action, as Judge Hand wrote "this we find impossible to understand." Plaintiffs, having sat silent for over three and a half years while Philippe expanded its business, constitutes inexcusable delay that will cause Philippe undue and severe prejudice. Plaintiffs, as a matter of law, should be estopped under the doctrine of laches from asserting all of their untimely claims.

III. COUNTS I THROUGH VI AND COUNT VIII SHOULD BE DISMISSED BECAUSE THERE CAN BE NO LIKELIHOOD OF CONFUSION BETWEEN PLAINTIFFS' AND PHILIPPE'S MARKS AS A MATTER OF LAW¹

To prevail on a trademark infringement claim, a plaintiff bears the burden of proving that the defendant's mark is likely to cause consumer confusion. Dieter v. B & H Indus. of Sw. Fla.,

¹ This argument and the following arguments address the grounds (in addition to laches) upon which Plaintiffs' claims should be dismissed.

Inc., 880 F.2d 322, 326 (11th Cir. 1989) citing 15 U.S.C. § 1114(1)(a). If the court determines from the pleadings that confusion is unlikely as a matter of law, the complaint should be dismissed. Murray v. Cable Nat'l Broad. Co., 86 F.3d 858 (9th Cir. 1996) (holding that a district court is not precluded from determining likelihood of confusion as a matter of law, either through dismissal or summary judgment).

In determining the likelihood of confusion between the two marks under Federal and Florida law, courts consider the following relevant factors: (1) strength of the mark at issue, (2) similarity of the marks, (3) similarity of the products the marks represent, (4) characteristics of the parties' customers and the degree of care they exercise, (5) defendant's intent and (6) evidence of actual confusion. Lone Star Steakhouse & Saloon, Inc. v. Longhorn Steaks, Inc., 122 F.3d 1379 (11th Cir. 1989); Great S. Bank v. First S. Bank, 625 So. 2d 463 (Fla. 1993). Of these factors, the strength of the mark at issue and the evidence of actual confusion are the two most important factors. Lone Star Steakhouse & Saloon, Inc., 122 F.3d at 1382 citing Dieter, 880 F.2d at 326. Where, as here, Plaintiffs' mark is weak and the Amended Complaint fails to allege sufficient allegations of actual confusion, the Court should dismiss the claims of Federal Trademark Infringement, Federal Trademark Infringement Based on Reverse Confusion, False Association/False Designation of Origin and Federal Unfair Competition, False Advertising, Common Law Trademark Infringement, Common Law Unfair, and Violation of Florida's Deceptive and Unfair Trade Practices Act² (Counts I through VI and VIII) with prejudice.

A. Plaintiffs' Mark is Extraordinarily Weak

"A vital factor in the determination of whether there is likelihood of confusion between two service marks is the strength or weakness of plaintiff's mark." Sun Banks of Fla. v. Sun Fed. Savs. & Loan Ass'n, 651 F.2d 311, 315 (5th Cir. 1981). To gauge a mark's strength, courts consider its distinctiveness in the marketplace. W.W.W. Pharm. Co. v. Gillette Co., 984 F.2d 567, 572 (2d Cir. 1993). As such, extensive third-party use of the mark in commerce severely weakens the strength of the mark and is "impressive evidence" that there would be no likelihood of confusion. See, e.g., Sun Banks of Fla., 651 F.2d at 316 (extensive third-party use of the word "Sun" is impressive evidence that there would be no likelihood of confusion between Sun Banks and Sun Federal); Armstrong Cork Co. v. World Carpets, Inc., 597 F.2d 496, 505 (5th Cir. 1979) (wide use of mark “World” results in little likelihood of confusion); Holiday Inns, Inc. v. Holiday Out in America, 481 F.2d 445, 448 (5th Cir. 1973) (common word “Holiday” is of weak trademark significance).

Here, Plaintiffs have allegedly used its “Mr. Chow” mark for its Chinese restaurant since 1974. (Compl. ¶ 29.) However, throughout that same period of time, the United States Patent and Trademark Office issued two hundred and fifty (250) trademarks that utilize the mark “CHOW” in commerce. Of those 250 trademarks, fifty three (53) were approved for use on “Restaurant Services” – many of which were issued for Chinese food restaurants – and an additional sixty one (61) marks were issued for food related products and services, including three (3) trademark registrations for “CHEF CHOW’S” for use on “oriental cooking.” See Composite Exhibit A and B to the Declaration of Lyle E. Shapiro (“Shapiro Decl.”) attached hereto. These circumstances certainly evidence that Plaintiffs’ mark is incredibly weak. See El Chico, Inc. v. El Chico Cafe, 214 F.2d 721, 725 (5th Cir. 1954) (27 trademark registrations of “El Chico” make the term a weak trade name deserving limited protection).

Furthermore, Plaintiffs allege that they operate Mr. Chow restaurants in New York City, California and will open a new location next month in Miami, Florida. (Compl. ¶¶ 29-31.) However, these markets are completely saturated with the use of “CHOW” on Chinese food restaurants. For example, in New York City and Los Angeles alone there are at least thirty six six (36) Chinese food restaurants that use the word “CHOW” in their name. See Composite Exhibit C to Shapiro Decl. Thus, Plaintiffs’ use of “Mr. Chow” – even in its own geographic location – is weak.

Moreover, this Circuit also considers the number of businesses incorporated with the Division of Corporations of the Secretary of State in determining the strength – or in this case weakness – of a plaintiff’s mark. Sun Banks of Fla., 651 F.2d 311, 316 (5th Cir. 1981) (citing a composite print out from the Florida Secretary of State that revealed a number of businesses employing the word “Sun” in finding no likelihood of confusion between “Sun Banks” and “Sun Federal Savings & Loan” due to extensive third party use). Here, there are one hundred and three (103) businesses registered with the Secretary of State in New York, California and Florida using the mark “CHOW” in the name of their restaurant. See Composite Exhibit D to Shapiro Decl. Clearly, this overwhelming use of “CHOW” in the marketplace, coupled with the sheer volume of federal trademark registrations incorporating the “CHOW” mark on restaurant services, shows that Plaintiffs’ “Mr. Chow” mark is extremely weak. Accordingly, this critical factor weighs heavily in Philippe’s favor.

B. Dissimilarity of the Marks

“When analyzing similarity, courts should examine the pronunciation, appearance, and verbal translation of conflicting marks.” Daddy’s Junky Music Stores, Inc. v. Big Daddy’s Family Music Ctr., 109 F.3d 275 (6th Cir. 1997). When a particular feature of a mark is more obvious or dominant, greater weight ought to be given to the force and effect of such feature when determining likelihood of confusion. Kangol, Ltd. v. KangaROOS, U.S.A., Inc., 974 F.2d 161 (Fed. Cir. 1992). Therefore, in comparing two marks to determine whether they are confusingly similar, “if one word or feature of a composite trademark is the salient portion of the mark, it may be given greater weight than the surrounding elements.” Meridian Mut. Ins. Co. v. Meridian Ins. Group, Inc., 128 F.3d 1111 (7th Cir. 1997).

Here, the dominant portion of Philippe’s mark is “Philippe.” Accordingly, a comparison of the parties’ two marks exemplifies the absurdity of Plaintiffs’ allegations of confusing similarity:

Mr. Chow

Philippe

It is little wonder why Plaintiffs chose not to attach a picture of the Mr. Chow mark to their Amended Complaint or offer any physical evidence of the Philippe mark.³ The differences between these two marks are both obvious and critical: the spelling and pronunciation (Mr. Chow v. Philippe By Philippe Chow), the font (Mr. Chow: thick and boxy v. Philippe: thin and elegant); typeface (Mr. Chow: bold and all capitals v. Philippe: cursive and mix of upper and lowercase); and color (Mr. Chow: black and white v. Philippe: red). These marks are so dissimilar that it is like comparing wantons to walruses.

The only similarity between these two marks is the name “Chow” at the end of Philippe’s mark. As discussed above, the word “Chow” is an incredibly weak aspect of the two marks as evidenced by the hundreds of “Chow” trademarks registered with the United States Patent and Trademark Office, the number of Chinese restaurants using the name “Chow” in the same geographic locations in which the parties operate, and the large number of businesses incorporating the name “Chow” with the Secretary of State in the areas where Plaintiffs and Philippe do business.

Furthermore, Philippe regularly uses other marks on nearly every aspect of its restaurants to identify Philippe in a way that could never be confusingly similar to Mr. Chow:

Philippe displays these marks on everything from their storefront to their artificial sweeteners to distinguish themselves from Plaintiffs. See Composite Exhibit F to Shapiro Decl. Indeed, the difference between Plaintiffs’ and Philippe’s marks is as different as night and day. The stark contrast of the overall look of the two marks plainly evidences that the two marks are entirely dissimilar as a matter of law, and therefore, this factor weighs strongly in Philippe’s favor.

C. Similarity of the Products

Both Plaintiffs and Philippe operate restaurants that serve Chinese cuisine; however, this lone similarity is not fully dispositive of this factor. In fact, when two restaurants have highly distinct and unique features, the weight of this factor is significantly diminished. In Barbeque Marx, Inc. v. 551 Ogden, Inc., 235 F.3d 1041 (7th Cir. 2000), the court held that even though two restaurants serving similar food were in close proximity to each other, they were not likely to cause consumer confusion based on the differences between their ambiance and theme:

SMOKE DADDY, a small restaurant seating only 42, and decorated in a 1950s style, focuses heavily on blues music. In contrast, BONE DADDY styles itself as an “irreverent” restaurant, using [] sexually charged slogans . . . BONE DADDY’s interior has a very different feel, and its stronger emphasis on food differentiates its style from that of SMOKE DADDY.

Id. at 1045. Accordingly, the difference in ambience and theme certainly weakens this factor's strength in favor of Plaintiff in the final weighing of the factors. Id.

Here, as in Barbeque Marx, the similarity of the products extends only to the type of cuisine served. On the other hand, the theme and ambience differences between the two types of restaurants are strikingly significant: the décor (Mr. Chow: 1920s art deco v. Philippe: sleek, brown, white, black and red color scheme); the ambience (Mr. Chow: no televisions v. Philippe: large flat screen televisions/eclectic music); the size (Mr. Chow: seats approx. 90 v. Philippe (New York): seats 200+); the kitchen (Mr. Chow: closed off v. Philippe (Miami): open for guests to view while dining); the menu (Mr. Chow: no menu or itemized billing⁴ v. Philippe: provides full menu and itemized bill); the dining options (Mr. Chow: no express restaurant v. Philippe: takeout and delivery from "Philippe Express" restaurant); the portions (Mr. Chow: serves for one person v. Philippe: serves family style). See Composite Exhibit G to Shapiro Decl. While both Plaintiffs and Philippe own restaurants that serve ethnically similar cuisine, the significant differences in their overall product make this factor relatively weak and in favor Philippe.

D. Characteristics of the Parties' Customers and the Degree of Care they Exercise

Likelihood of confusion must be assessed by examining the level of sophistication of the relevant buyers. Streetwise Maps, Inc. v. Vandam, Inc., 159 F.3d 739 (2d Cir. 1998). In making purchasing decisions regarding upscale goods and services, the reasonably prudent person standard is elevated to the standard of the "discriminating purchaser." Weiss Assoc., Inc. v. HRL Assoc., Inc., 902 F.2d 1546 (Fed. Cir. 1990). Accordingly, the higher the caliber of the restaurant, the less likely there will be consumer confusion. See Barbeque Marx, Inc. v. 551 Ogden, Inc., 235 F.3d 1041 (7th Cir. 2000) (holding that customers will exercise a reasonable degree of care when planning to dine at a restaurant of high caliber.)

Here, the same heightened degree of care is applied to the critically acclaimed Philippe and Plaintiffs' Mr. Chow restaurants. Plaintiffs characterize their cuisine as "Chinese fine dining" and boast how its restaurants are "commemorated by numerous luminaries in the social, political, art, entertainment, business, professional and sports fields." (Compl. ¶ 32.) Plaintiffs further allege that “[i]t is unlikely that such a famous and diverse group of people has ever been brought together before, or since, to commemorate such an event. No restaurant has ever amassed such a remarkable international clientele.” (Compl. ¶ 32.) Plaintiff goes so far as to allege that Mr. Chow is the “gathering places of intelligentsia, celebrities, artists, [and] world leaders . . .” (Compl. ¶ 34.) It should therefore come as no surprise to Plaintiffs that their “intelligentsia” and “world leaders” are highly sophisticated customers whose purchasing decisions for Plaintiffs’ “Chinese fine dining” would classify them as “discriminating customers” and are less likely to confuse Plaintiffs’ Mr. Chow with another restaurant. Clearly, the well-pled allegations of the Amended Complaint demonstrate the outstanding degree of customer care and therefore dispel any likelihood of confusion.

E. Good Faith Intent

“Disclaimers are a favored way of alleviating consumer confusion as to source or sponsorship.” Consumers Union of U.S., Inc., v. Gen. Singal Corp., 724 F.2d 1044, 1063 (2d Cir. 1983). “Although a disclaimer cannot insulate [a defendant] from liability, it indicates good faith use of the service marks and weighs in [a defendant’s] favor.” Bihari v. Gross, 119 F. Supp. 2d 309 (S.D.N.Y. 2000). Here, Plaintiffs readily admit that Philippe uses disclaimers to dispel any potential confusion based on Chef Philippe and Michael Chow’s common last name: “Defendants occasionally offered a disclaimer that Defendant Chau, now going by the name “Chow,” was “no relation” or “not related to” Mr. Chow. . . .” (Compl. ¶ 59). No matter how Plaintiffs try to “spin” this well-pled allegation, the admission that Philippe disclaimed any possible confusion emphasizes his good faith intent and weighs this factor strongly toward Philippe.⁵

F. No Alleged Evidence of Actual Confusion

Evidence of actual confusion cannot be based on speculation, “pure conjecture or a fetching narrative alone.” Barbeque Marx, Inc., 235 F.3d at 1045 citing Libman Co. v. Vining Indus., Inc., 69 F.3d 1360, 1363 (7th Cir. 1995). Here, Plaintiffs fail to plead any facts that support a likelihood of confusion claim other than to cite to a single quote in a newspaper article to which Plaintiffs apply their own speculation and conjecture.

Plaintiffs allege that in a newspaper article, one patron stated “in L.A., I used to go to MR CHOW weekly.” (Compl. ¶ 69.) Plaintiffs then speculate that “she could have only been referring to the Beverly Hills MR CHOW restaurant, mistakenly believing that it was affiliated with Defendants’ restaurant.” (Comp. ¶ 69.) However, Plaintiffs’ speculation and conjecture about what this unknown “patron” may have meant cannot substitute for evidence of actual confusion. Furthermore, Plaintiffs fail to attach this alleged article or provide any factual allegations identifying the source of the alleged article.

G. No Likelihood of Confusion as a Matter of Law

Here, the two strongest factors when assessing the likelihood of confusion, the strength of the plaintiff’s mark and evidence of actual confusion, weigh unequivocally in Philippe’s favor. Nearly all of the remaining factors, such as the dissimilarity of the marks and the heightened degree of customer care, fall strongly in Philippe’s favor as well. Even when accepting the well-pled allegations as true and viewing them in the light most favorable to Plaintiffs, the Amended Complaint evidences that there is no likelihood of confusion as a matter of law, and therefore Counts I through VI and Count VIII should be dismissed with prejudice.

IV. COUNT IX FAILS TO STATE A CLAIM FOR CONVERSION

Conversion is the “wrongful taking of personal property with the intent to exercise an ownership which is inconsistent with the real owner’s right of possession.” Idearc Media Corp. v. Kimsey & Assocs., P.A., 2008 WL 2852444 *1 (M.D. Fla. 2008) (emphasis added). It is universally held that “a trademark is not tangible personal property, but rather is intangible intellectual property having no existence apart from the good will of the product or service it symbolizes.” Fin. Matters, Inc. v. Pepsico, Inc., 1993 WL 378844 (S.D.N.Y. 1993).

One cannot dispense with the carefully constructed requirements for trademark protection by blithely claiming that a defendant “converted” some symbol of plaintiff which may or may not be capable of trademark protection:

Were such a claim of “conversion” viable, it would mean that the tort of conversion could largely displace the [intellectual property] laws traditionally defining what is an infringement of patents, trademarks and copyrights. For example, could a plaintiff avoid the traditional trademark infringement test of likelihood of confusion and instead simply claim that defendant “converted” its trademark? If so, over 100 years of trademark law would be discarded. Thus, I believe that there is not, and should not be, such a thing as a viable claim that a trademark has been “converted.”

4 McCarthy on Trademarks and Unfair Competition § 25:9.50 (emphasis added). Indeed, “[t]rademark law was specifically constructed to balance the private and public interests inherent in commercial symbols: the tort of conversion was not. It is the wrong tool for the job.” Id.

Courts faced with a claim that a trademark has been “converted” have rejected the concept outright. Id. citing Richmond v. Nat’l Inst. of Certified Estate Planners, 2006 WL 2375454 (N.D. Ill. 2006) (dismissing counts for conversion of trademark and trespass to chattel because they failed to state a claim); Liebowitz v. Maxwell, 1994 WL 517456 (S.D.N.Y. 1994), related reference, 927 F. Supp. 688 (S.D.N.Y. 1996) (dismissing claim for conversion of trademark); Big Time Worldwide Concert & Sport Club at Town Ctr., LLC. v. Marriott Intern., Inc., 236 F. Supp. 2d 791, 806-07 (E.D. Mich. 2003); Metro Sanitation, L.L.C. v. C & R Maint., Inc., 2005 WL 1861931 (E.D. Mich. 2005) (a claim for “conversion” of a service mark is not recognized); Neles-Jamesbury, Inc. v. Bill's Valves, 974 F. Supp. 979 (S.D. Tex. 1997) (rejecting claim for conversion of trademark); Express One Int’l, Inc. v. Steinbeck, 53 S.W. 3d 895 (Tex. App. 2001) (same).

Here, Plaintiffs allege in Count IX for Conversion that “Defendants have wrongfully and unlawfully asserted dominion over the intellectual property of Mr. Chow and the MR CHOW Restaurants, and . . . [a]s a result of Defendants’ wrongful conversion of the property of Mr. Chow and/or the MR CHOW Restaurants, Plaintiffs are entitled to damages in an amount to be determined at trial.” (Compl. ¶¶ 150 & 154). Using intellectual property as the sole basis of their conversion claim, Plaintiffs fail to state a claim for relief and Count IX should be dismissed.⁶

⁶ Additionally, Plaintiffs’ conversion count is deficient in as much as they failed to allege that they made a demand for the return of the property or allege the futility of doing so. See Ginsberg v. Lennar Fla. Holdings, Inc., 645 So. 2d 490, 500 (Fla. 3d DCA 1994), rev. denied, 659 So. 2d 272 (Fla. 1995).

V. COUNT VII FOR MISAPPROPRIATION OF TRADE SECRETS IS BARRED BY THE THREE YEAR STATUTE OF LIMITATIONS

An action for misappropriation of trade secrets under New York law⁷ will be barred by the statute of limitations unless the action is brought within three years after the misappropriation is discovered or by the exercise of reasonable diligence should have been discovered. N.Y. C.P.L.R. § 214(4) (2009); Demas v. Levitsky, 738 N.Y.S.2d 402 (N.Y. App. Div. 2002). The statute of limitations begins to run either at the time of the misappropriation or when the disclosure of the trade secret is made. M & T Chems., Inc. v. Int'l Bus. Machs. Corp., 403 F. Supp. 1145 (S.D.N.Y. 1975), aff'd, 542 F.2d 1165 (2d Cir. 1976).

Here, Count VII is barred by the statute of limitations. Plaintiffs allege they discovered Philippe misappropriating Plaintiffs' trade secrets and promoting the same as early as 2005:

- “Mr. Chow created twelve classic dishes that have become the signature dishes of the MR CHOW Restaurants. . . . These unique dishes . . . are among the trade secrets and intellectual property of Mr. Chow and the MR CHOW Restaurants.” (Compl. at ¶ 25.)
- “In 2005, Defendant Morfogen conspired with Defendant Chau to steal the mark, reputation, and trade secrets of the MR CHOW Restaurants. . .” (Compl. at ¶ 49.)
- “In December 2005, Defendants Chau . . . and Morfogen opened a New York restaurant . . . just a few blocks away from the MR CHOW restaurant. . .” (Compl. at ¶ 52) (emphasis added).
- “[Defendants’] menu contains the same signature dishes as MR CHOW. Defendants promoted the menu as consisting of ‘Chef Chow’s’ dishes that Defendant Chau had been preparing ‘for the last 27 years’ at MR CHOW.” (Compl. at ¶ 55.) (emphasis added).

Even though Plaintiffs discovered Philippe allegedly using their trade secrets in December 2005, Plaintiffs failed to file suit until July 8, 2009 – over three and a half years later. Accordingly, Count VII is barred by the three year statute of limitations period.

Furthermore, even if the statute of limitations has not expired (which it has), Plaintiffs' trade secret claim is barred by the doctrine of laches for the same reasons discussed supra. Philippe established and grew its business for nearly four years without any objection from

Plaintiffs. Under these circumstances, a rebuttable presumption of laches exists and therefore bars Plaintiffs' trade secret claim. See S. Grouts & Mortars, Inc. v. 3M Co., 2008 WL 4346798 (S.D. Fla. Sept. 17, 2008) citing Jarrow Formulas, Inc. v. Nutrition Now, Inc., 304 F.3d 829, 837 (“[I]f the claim is filed after the analogous limitations period has expired, the presumption is that laches is a bar to suit.”); Whittaker Corp. v. Execuair Corp., 736 F.2d 1341 (9th Cir. 1984) (holding that a claim for misappropriation of trade secrets barred by laches).

VI. COUNT VII FAILS TO STATE A CLAIM FOR MISAPPROPRIATION OF TRADE SECRETS UNDER RULE 12(b)(6)

Even if Count VII was not barred as a matter of law pursuant to the applicable statute of limitations and/or the doctrine of laches (which it is), Plaintiffs' claim would nevertheless have to be dismissed for failure to state a claim.

A trade secret is a formula, pattern, device or compilation of information which gives the possessor of the information an advantage over a competitor. Ashland Mgmt. Inc. v. Janien, 82 N.Y.2d 395 (1993). In order to plead a claim for misappropriation of trade secrets, the complaint must describe the secret subject matter with sufficient particularity to separate the subject matter from general knowledge in the trade:

The pleadings must allow the defendant to ascertain at least the boundaries within which the trade secret lies. If the subject is a manufacturing process, the plaintiff must identify the end product and supply sufficient data about the process, without revealing the details of the process. Such a pleading will give the court and the defendant reasonable notice of the issues which must be addressed at the time of trial and will provide reasonable guidance to define the scope of discovery.

1 Trade Secrets Law § 5:28 (emphasis added). Here, Plaintiffs fail to allege with any specificity the nature of their alleged “secrets.” Plaintiffs allege they have “specially developed methods, processes, and techniques, which relate not only to the preparation and presentation of the food, but to the control and function of the kitchen, the cooking, expediting and food delivery processes, and the training of staff.” (Compl. ¶ 24.) Plaintiffs further allege that “these processes, methods, and techniques constitute trade secrets of Mr. Chow and the MR CHOW Restaurants.” (Compl. ¶ 24.) However, Plaintiffs leave Philippe to guess what “processes, methods, and techniques” Plaintiffs claim as a trade secret. Plaintiffs operate Chinese food restaurants featuring dishes served in China for hundreds of years. The processes and preparation methods Plaintiffs use are well known to the hundreds of employees that have worked for Plaintiffs, none of whom signed any confidentiality agreement of any kind. Moreover, the processes are well known in the Chinese culinary industry. Plaintiffs fail to provide any details as to the types of processes, methods and techniques they employ as distinguished from the generally known processes, methods and techniques of other Chinese restaurants.

Plaintiffs further allege that the “business plans, business strategies, techniques, operational and management processes and procedures and other confidential business information of Mr. Chow and the MR CHOW Restaurants constitute trade secrets protected by the common law of New York.” (Compl. ¶ 133.) However, Plaintiffs fail to allege any specific facts that identify the “processes and procedures and other confidential information” for which Plaintiffs claim trade secret protection. These bald legal conclusions are not sufficiently pled under New York law – or any law for that matter – and require dismissal. See Globaldata Mgmt. Corp. v. Pfizer Inc., 814 N.Y.S.2d 561 (2005) (“Defendants contend that plaintiff’s allegations in this regard are mere ‘bald legal conclusions’ without any foundation and are not entitled to any legal significance. I agree. Since the defendants have failed to describe any trade secrets or confidential information supplied to the individual plaintiffs, it is apparent that such allegations provide no support for these causes of action.”)

Furthermore, in order to plead a claim for trade secret misappropriation, a plaintiff must allege specific facts as to its efforts to implement reasonable safeguards to protect the alleged secrecy of the trade secret. “An essential prerequisite to legal protection against the misappropriation of a trade secret is the element of secrecy.” Atmospherics, Ltd. v. Hansen, 702 N.Y.S.2d 385, 386 (2000). Thus, a plaintiff must allege specific facts as to its efforts to implement reasonable safeguards to protect the alleged secrecy of the trade secret. Abbott Labs. v. Chiron Corp., 43 U.S.P.Q. 2d 1695 (N.D. Ill. 1997).

In Abbott Laboratories v. Chiron Corp., a trade secret claim was dismissed for failure to state a claim where the complaint only alleged that the trade secrets were “sufficiently secret. . . for not being known generally to others,” and were “the subject of reasonable efforts to maintain their secrecy and confidentiality.” 43 U.S.P.Q. 2d 1695 (N.D. Ill. 1997). The court held that by “merely repeating the language of the statute”, the plaintiff pleaded only “bare legal conclusions.” Id. The complaint, “without any factual allegations regarding the plaintiff’s effort to maintain the confidentiality of the trade secret”, could not withstand a motion to dismiss. Id.

Here, Plaintiffs fail to adequately plead any factual allegations regarding Plaintiffs’ efforts to maintain the confidentiality of the alleged trade secrets. Plaintiffs merely allege that “Mr. Chow and the MR CHOW Restaurants engaged in reasonable steps to protect the trade secrets used in operating the MR CHOW Restaurants through policies, procedures, training and other measures designed and intended to protect them under the circumstances.” (Compl. ¶ 75.) These bare legal conclusions merely repeat the necessary elements required under New York law and do not constitute specific facts as to Plaintiffs’ efforts to implement reasonable safeguards to protect the secrecy of their so-called trade secrets. Accordingly, because Plaintiffs have not alleged that they took any specific steps to keep their alleged trade secrets confidential, Count VII fails.

VII. COUNTS V AND VI FOR COMMON LAW TRADEMARK INFRINGEMENT AND COMMON LAW UNFAIR COMPETITION FAIL TO STATE A CLAIM FOR WHICH RELIEF CAN BE GRANTED

Counts V and VI attempt to allege claims for Common Law Trademark Infringement and Common Law Unfair Competition, respectively. (Compl. ¶¶ 116-131.) In order to state a claim for common law trademark or unfair competition, a plaintiff must identify under which State’s law it is bringing suit. See Knights Armament Co. v. Optical Sys. Tech., Inc., 568 F. Supp. 2d 1369 (M.D. Fla. 2008) citing Fed. R. Civ. P. 8(a)(2) (dismissing claim for common law unfair competition where plaintiff failed to “indicate whether it is bringing suit under Florida or Pennsylvania law of unfair competition.”)

Here, Plaintiffs fail to allege whether they are bringing suit under Florida, New York or some other State’s trademark and unfair competition law. Accordingly, Plaintiffs allegations are insufficient to state a claim for common law trademark infringement and common law unfair competition, and therefore, Counts V and VI should be dismissed.

VIII. ALL OF PLAINTIFFS’ CLAIMS FAIL TO COMPLY WITH RULE 8 PLEADING REQUIREMENTS AS PLAINTIFFS’ ALLEGATIONS “LUMP” DEFENDANTS TOGETHER

A district court may dismiss a case for failure to comply with the pleading rules. Friedlander v. Nims, 755 F.2d 810, 813 (11th Cir. 1985). To satisfy Rule 8(a) and (b) of the Federal Rules of Civil Procedure, a complaint must contain “a short plain statement of the claim showing that the pleader is entitled to relief.” Fed. R. Civ. P. 8(b). The United States Supreme Court has interpreted Rule 8(a) to mean a complaint must include “enough facts to state a claim to relief that is plausible on its face” or otherwise be subject to dismissal. Bell Atl. Corp. v. Twombly, 550 U.S. 544, 570 (2007). Courts have further recognized that a complaint must give the defendant fair notice of what the plaintiff’s claim is and the grounds upon which it rests. Swierkiewicz v. Sorema N.A., 534 U.S. 506, 512 (2002). “In a case with multiple defendants, the complaint should contain specific allegations with respect to each defendant; generalized allegations ‘lumping’ multiple defendants together are insufficient.” W. Coast Roofing and Waterproofing, Inc. v. Johns Manville, Inc., 287 Fed. Appx. 81, *86 (11th Cir. 2008) citing Ambrosia Coal & Const. Co. v. Pages Morales, 482 F.3d 1309 (11th Cir. 2007).

Here, Plaintiffs improperly “lump” all the Defendants together in each Count and fail to allege the specific actions of each Defendant that allegedly harmed each of the Plaintiffs. These insufficient allegations require dismissal of Plaintiffs’ claims. W. Coast Roofing and Waterproofing, Inc. v. Johns Manville, Inc., 287 Fed. Appx. 81 *86 (11th Cir. 2008). However, should this Court not dismiss Plaintiffs’ claims in their entirety (which it should), Defendants respectfully request an Order requiring Plaintiffs to plead these allegations with sufficient particularity which will, in turn, allow each Defendant to file a proper response to the extent that such claims are alleged against such Defendant.⁸

IX. COUNTS X AND XI BASED PRIMARILY ON ALLEGED “INFORMATION AND BELIEF” DO NOT SATISFY RULE 8 PLEADING REQUIREMENTS

Although Rule 8 only requires a short and plain statement of the claim showing that the pleader is entitled to relief, pleading on “information and belief” is “not an appropriate form of pleading if the matter is within the personal knowledge of the pleader or ‘presumptively’ within his knowledge, unless he [or she] rebuts that presumption.” Hutchens v. Alameda County Soc.

⁸ Pursuant to Rule 12(e) of the Federal Rules of Civil Procedure, “[a] party may move for a more definite statement of a pleading to which a responsive pleading is allowed but which is so vague or ambiguous that the party cannot reasonably prepare a response.” Fed. R. Civ. P. 12(e). Here, a motion for a more definite statement should be granted to require Plaintiffs to comply with federal pleading rules in order to give a defendant fair notice of the nature and basis of the claims. See Friedlander v. Nims, 755 F.2d 810, 813 (11th Cir. 1985).

Servs. Agency, 2008 WL 4193046 *5 (N.D. Cal. 2008) citing 5 Charles Alan Wright & Arthur R. Miller, Federal Practice and Procedure § 1224 (2d ed.1990). Thus, in order to satisfy Rule 8, allegations based on “information and belief” must be accompanied by a statement of the facts upon which the belief is grounded. Prince v. Madison Square Garden, 427 F. Supp. 2d 372, 385 (S.D.N.Y. 2006).

The core factual allegations of Counts X and XI for Unfair Competition by Corporate Espionage and Civil Trespass are that an unknown individual entered Plaintiffs’ Miami Beach restaurant uninvited, asked for Plaintiffs’ executive chef by name, and was identified by Plaintiffs’ chef as an acquaintance of over forty (40) years. (Compl. ¶ 79-81.) Based on those unremarkable factual allegations, Plaintiffs then leap to the conclusion that “upon information and belief”, this individual was an agent or apparent agent of Philippe engaged in “corporate espionage surveillance” in a nefarious attempt to steal Plaintiffs’ alleged trade secrets and confidential information. (Compl. ¶ 83.) However, nothing in Plaintiffs’ factual allegations suggests such a conclusion. Because Plaintiffs have not alleged a factual basis supporting their contention that this individual was working on behalf of Philippe for improper purposes, Counts X and XI must be dismissed.

The proposition that Philippe, who has operated a successful restaurant business around the country for nearly four years, sent a “covert” spy, who readily identified himself as such, to Plaintiffs’ place of business for purposes of unfair competition, defies all logic and is simply false. As Plaintiffs are well aware, the individual who came to Plaintiffs’ restaurant was a gentleman by the name of Man Choy (“Peter”). Peter went to the restaurant to say hello to his friend of over forty (40) years, Ng Jai Chung (“John”). A W Hotel Security Guard walked Peter into the restaurant. He did not trespass. When John recognized his old friend Peter, John was happy to see him. Peter and John spoke for a few minutes, exchanged cell phone numbers and promised to continue to keep in touch. After the conversation, Peter walked away from the restaurant. He was in no way escorted out of the restaurant as alleged.

Peter and John met each other in Hong Kong in the 1960s. They remained friends when they were both working in London in the 1970s and 1980s. Even when Peter moved to the United States in the 1980s, Peter and John continued their friendship and kept in touch over the telephone. Approximately five years ago, John traveled from London to San Diego to pay respect to Peter’s brother who was dying of a terminal illness. Peter’s visit to Plaintiffs’ restaurant was for personal reasons and for nothing more. Peter did not visit Plaintiffs' restaurant with the knowledge or consent of Philippe. Indeed, the pretext of Plaintiffs' highly inflammatory and groundless claims is clear: they are nothing more than a continuation of Plaintiffs' improper use of these court proceedings as ongoing publicity for the imminent grand opening of its new restaurant in Miami Beach.

CONCLUSION

Defendants respectfully request that Plaintiffs' Amended Complaint be dismissed with prejudice for the reasons set forth hereinabove.
